Today's world has changed a lot. Technology is taking over everything. Nowadays, all organizations want to work quickly and accurately, there is no substitute for web applications. A few days' work can now be done with just a few clicks. The biggest advantage of web application is that many people are needed to do a task manually but if a web base software is used then that task can be done by only one or two people. That is, the cost of an organization decreases at once. Besides, the demand of web developers is increasing day by day. A company has 100 employees. They all use a software and that software is created by a developer. That is, the value of 100 employees is as much as the value of one developer. So we understand how much a developer is worth.